

ATLANTA BOTANICAL GARDEN

Gainesville

news release

Gainesville Garden rounds out anniversary with Emmylou Harris concert, new holiday light show!

ATLANTA (June 3, 2025) – The party continues at the Atlanta Botanical Garden, Gainesville as it celebrates its 10th anniversary with festivals, an art exhibit, a major outdoor concert and – a first for the Garden – a holiday light show.

- JuneFest: Saturday, June 7. Enjoy a fun-filled day for the entire family with a deejay, educational booths, local vendors, kids' activities and an artist-led tour of the exhibit Forest Forms: Woodland Wonders.
- Forest Forms: Woodland Wonders: Saturday, June 7 – Sunday, Oct. 5. Explore an exhibition featuring 21 larger-than-life metal sculptures of plants and animals, such as flowers and foxes, by artist Huelani Mei.
- Emmylou Harris Concert, Friday, Sept. 12: Kick back under the stars over the Ivester Amphitheater for enjoying a live performance by the legendary singer-songwriter.
- Scarecrows in the Garden, Wednesday, Oct. 1 – Sunday, Nov. 2: Check out dozens of crafty scarecrows created by families, artists, schools and businesses poised throughout the Garden.
- NEW! Gainesville Glows: Lanterns and Lights, Thursdays – Sundays, Nov. 20 - Jan. 4: Get in the holiday spirit by strolling through gardens brimming with displays of lights, lanterns and luminaries, from the whimsical to the sublime.

For details, visit gainesvillegarden.org.

The mission of the Atlanta Botanical Garden is to develop and maintain plant collections for display, education, research, conservation and enjoyment. The Garden is located at 1345 Piedmont Ave. NE. For information, visit atlantabg.org or phone 404-876-5859.

#

Media Contact:

Danny Flanders, 404-591-1550

dflanders@atlantabg.org

